

County's Mental Problem Detailed By Study

The troubled child, teenager or adult living in the shadow world of emotional despair "has less than full opportunity for recovery in Lake County," according to E. L. Oberto, president of the Lake County Mental Health Society.

Oberto's statement is based on a preliminary survey of Lake County citizens in the helping professions.

Among those interviewed were 23 school superintendents, six township supervisors, eight police chiefs, five clergymen and three others. Interviews were conducted by members of the Mental Health Society Board.

"We conducted the survey to get the impressions of these key professionals," Oberto said.

National studies say Lake County has about 30,000 people with emotional and mental handicaps. "We are quite familiar with about three per cent of this number who are served by existing mental health and retardation facilities," but the overwhelming majority are never seen and go without assistance. We want to know more about them, Oberto said.

Who are those not getting help? According to the survey they are children with emotional problems who do not respond to special education or limited counseling, pregnant girls and unwed mothers, young couples whose marriages are torn by stress, children with perceptual problems, as well as acute and chronic alcoholics.

The interviews tell moving stories about troubled persons living in Lake County. A school superintendent told of an adopted boy of ten with severe behavior problems at home and learning problems in school. A nine year old girl, who lives in a fantasy world hearing voices, is a poor achiever and aggressive toward her mother.

A township supervisor mentioned "A young man who molested a 12 year old girl and attacked an elderly woman. knows he is sick... but is unable to afford private help and therefore goes without. He faces the wrath of the law, but no help for the sickness that stimulates his action."

Another school superintendent who was interviewed described a troubled child for whom no assistance was available. "We have a girl in the sixth grade who takes things and lies. She thinks her parents hate her and she needs help." He went on to say that this case was not unusual and that many such children are denied the full range of mental health services.

"The fact of the matter is that we don't have a full service program in the county," Oberto said.

Passage of the June 11 Mental Health Referendum would make such a program possible.

When asked "do any problems come to your attention that you yourself are unable to assist with," 41 of 45 interviewed responded with a resounding "yes."

Mental and emotional problems that are beyond the capacity of the helping professionals interviewed are usually referred to mental health clinics, school counselors, clergymen, the courts, police, state hospitals, health and welfare agencies, the survey reveals. Most mental health problems were referred to the Lake County Mental Health Center, Irene Josselyn Clinic and Fox Valley Mental Health Center, it was indicated.

Of those interviewed 38 were aware of the services of the Lake County Mental Health Center in Waukegan, while six were not. However, only 25 had actually made referrals.

"We attribute this fact to their not being fully informed about our services," Oberto said. "Yet even those who have referred are well aware that we do not offer a full service program."

"Our survey, while not a scientific sample, points up the critical need for mental health services," says Oberto. "It is cruel to deny treatment to the disturbed and retarded children who are not served by current programs," he said.

When asked what additional services would make strides toward solving the county's problems, those interviewed had several suggestions, including a day hospital, more marital counseling, more psychiatric staff for present programs, full psychiatric hospitalization services for all people regardless of their economic status, an alcoholism clinic as well as expanded programs for the retarded, especially for the pre-school and young adult retardates.

Several also called for a trade or continuation school and a work experience program for those unable to attend school.

"The June 11 referendum will be the first step toward a comprehensive community mental health program," Oberto said. Of course, this will not answer all of the county's ills, but it will provide all citizens with the fullest opportunities for recovery."

A comprehensive mental health plan would include the full range of services including outpatient service, hospitalization, day care, emergency service, and consultation-education.

"Such a program could prevent emotional breakdown and upset. Furthermore, it could keep many of our citizens out of state hospitals," Oberto concluded.

Antioch High School Board Adds 6 Teachers To Faculty

Six new teachers have been hired by the Antioch High School Board, it has been announced.

School Supt. Albert Dittman made the announcement but refused to disclose the starting salary for the new members of the faculty.

He did say, however, that the salaries are in line with the district's salary schedule.

The new teachers and their duties are:

Harold Schleuseper, industrial arts, a masters degree from the University of Minnesota.

Mrs. Judith Folke, French, graduate of Manchester College, Indiana.

Miss Barbara Balsamello, speech and English, graduate of the University of Illinois, Chicago Campus.

Miss Sharon Reich, home economics, Stout University, Menominee, Wis.

Cary MacDonald, mathematics, formerly taught at Zion-Benton High School, masters degree from the University of North Carolina.

Miss Suzanne Gerash, English, graduate of St. Xavier College.

In other action the board accepted the resignations of an office secretary, a football coach and a teacher.

Mrs. Alice Brownlee, a secretary resigned for domestic reasons; James Erdmann, coach for six years at the school is taking a position at the Northern Illinois Gas Co.; and Kenneth Raymond, French teacher, has taken a position in Minneapolis Public School system.

The board also approved an equipment request for the 1968-69 school years estimated to cost $38,820.

The equipment will cover 26 areas of school programs from subject fields to custodian areas, including folding chairs, movie projectors, typewriters and overhead projectors.

Athletic Director Ward Lear told the board that 216 or only 40 per cent of the school's male population participated in athletic activities during the 1967-68 school year.

Seven athletic activities were named, including football, basketball, track, cross-country, wrestling and golf.

The board also approved use of the school's athletic and baseball fields by American Legion Baseball and the Antioch Babe Ruth League.

The Antioch Lions Club recently initiated seven new members into the organization.

The initiation took place at a dinner meeting in Lorenz's Smart Country House, Antioch, on May 13.

The service will end with taps and a volley by the firing squad.

VOL. LXXXII. NUMBER 48

Ask Lower Speed Limit For Oakwood Knolls

Oakwood Knolls residents have petitioned the Antioch Village Board of Trustees for a lower speed limit through the residential area.

Trustees were advised that traffic is going through the subdivision at a fast rate endangering the lives of the children in the area.

Mayor Raymond Toft requested Village Attorney Edward Jacobs to look into the matter and see if anything can be done.

Trustees were unable to recall whether the present speed limit is 30 or 35 miles an hour and wondered if it could be dropped to 25 miles an hour as requested by the residents.

Jacobs is to search the ordinance and report back at the next village board meeting.

ASK APPROVAL

Mayor Toft also received a request from the builders of Sequoia Terrace Subdivision No. 1 for Village approval of the subdivision.

The section is in the middle of the project and it was pointed out that sewer and water, storm sewer and curbs were already in.

Sidewalks are coming along also, Mayor Toft reported, saying he had visited the area during the day Tuesday.

He pointed out, however, that approval and acceptance of the subdivision should not be made until a letter of credit is received from the builder so that there would be reassurance that all of the sidewalks would be put in.

Toft said they were about a quarter completed and that the balance would run around $4,000. The board approved the subdivision with the provision that a letter of credit be forthcoming.

Toft pointed out that the builders were given two years to get the sidewalks in and still had about a year to go.

"The area has turned out real nice so far," Toft said, "and we would like to see the balance of it in a like manner."

WATER SAMPLES

The board was also told that samples of water from Quaker Industries had been taken at the request of the State Sanitary Water Board but it might cost the village some $204.

It was explained that if the samples proved to be all right the village would have to pay for the tests run. If the samples are polluted, however, the firm would have to foot the bill.

The tests were taken to determine whether or not the storm or sanitary sewer system would be injured by the water from the firm being tied into it.

BUDDY POPPY DAYS

Mayor Toft signed a proclamation setting May 31 and June 1 as Buddy Poppy Days in Antioch.

Sales of the poppies will begin at 4 p.m. May 31 by the Women's Auxiliary of Antioch's VFW Sequoia Post 4551 and end at 4 p.m. on June 1.

All proceeds will go toward veterans rehabilitation and relief to widows and children of veterans. The proclamation pointed out that the sale of Buddy Poppies by the VFW has been officially recognized and endorsed by governmental leaders since 1922.

The poppies, the proclamation points out, are assembled by disabled veterans and the proceeds are used exclusively for disabled and needy veterans and the widows and orphans of deceased veterans.

"I urge all patriotic citizens to wear a Buddy Poppy as mute evidence of our gratitude to the men of this country who have risked their lives in defense of freedoms which we continue to enjoy as American citizens," Mayor Toft said.

APPOINTMENTS

In final action Mayor Toft named several more appointments.

They included:

Police Chief Jack Davis, juvenile officer; Edward Jacobs, village attorney; Dr. J. W. Kopriva, health officer; Thomas Haley chairman of the zoning board of appeals; Earl Pape and Frank Kuechenmeister to four year terms on the zoning board of appeals.

George Bartlett, planning commission chairman; W. V. Lahti, John Dupre, Ronald Vos, Ernest Glenn, Jerry Rockow, and Dick Daniels as members of the planning commission, and Edward J. Frazier as civil defense director.

Mayor Toft said he would name his committees and safety commission at a later date.

Major Is Back Here At A&P

Richard H. Major, 48, of Rte. 2, Box 65, Antioch, has returned to take over the management of the Antioch A&P Store.

Major, who lives with his wife Marlene, and two daughters, Martha, a junior at Antioch High School, and Sally, a freshman, managed the store here until seven years ago when he was transferred to open the then new A&P Store in Fox Lake.

Ronald Schellinger Named To Succeed Meyer On L.V. Board

Ronald Schellinger has been named to the board of trustees of Lake Villa to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of John J. Meyer.

Meyer resigned Monday night saying he couldn't keep up with the workload and he did not have time to devote proper attention to zoning and ordinances.

He nominated Schellinger to replace him and the board accepted the nomination. Schellinger's term will run through April, 1969.

He was an unsuccessful candidate for the board a year ago.

The village board authorized engineers Baxter and Woodman to represent the village in an attempt to get $200,000 in federal funds for addition to the village sewage plant.

The board also named Eugene J. Malcolm of Grandwood as a sixth part-time patrolman.

The police department, it was announced will take over the north half of the village hall basement. Remodeling will run about $200.

Shapiro Is 36th Gov.

Lt. Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro was sworn in Tuesday, May 21, as the 36th Governor of the State of Illinois at 1:30 p.m. in the House of Representatives in the State Capitol in Springfield.

Gov. Kerner, who was sworn in the previous day as Judge of the U. S. Court of Appeals, Seventh Circuit, will administer the oath of office to his friend and successor in a brief ceremony in the chambers where Shapiro began his service in state government as a state representative, first elected in 1946. Shapiro served 14 years in the House.

Following the swearing-in, Governor Shapiro gave a short address.

The Kankakee attorney, who has served for the last seven and one-half years as Lieutenant Governor, took office formally two days after the resignation of Governor Kerner.

Shapiro's inauguration as governor was 29 years to the day after his marriage to his wife, Gertrude, in a simple ceremony in Chicago.

The brief ceremony in the House was open to the public. No invitations were issued.

Highway Deaths Dropping

The 1962 highway deaths topped the 40,000 mark. Three years later the figure was 48,500 and in 1966 America's highways were stained with the blood of 52,500 persons.

The skyrocketing figures paused—even dropped a bit in 1967. The year-end toll stood at 52,200, according to the highway accident booklet released annually by The Travelers Insurance Companies.

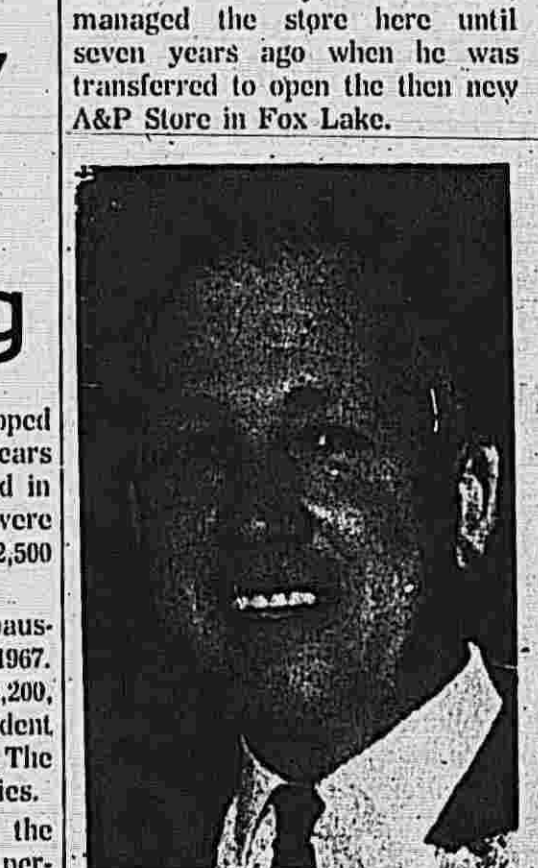

Tragedy did not stop with the deaths, but added 3,840,000 persons to the 1962 injured list. Some 4.4 million were injured in 1966 and 4,200,000 in 1967—a reduction of some 200,000.

"The record of 1967 gives us the first appreciable improvement in this respect that has taken place in more than a decade," according to a Travelers spokesman.

"The satisfaction this gives must be qualified, however, for it will require many more years of consistent betterment before we can claim any genuine progress toward the conquest of a stubborn and tragic problem," he added.

Adverse weather was not an important contributing factor in 1962 or 1967. Records show that last year some 80 per cent of the fatal crashes occurred on clear days and dry roads. The remaining 20 per cent occurred in fog, rain and snowy weather.

Excessive speed continues to hold top spot in the list of accident causes, with reckless driving and driving on the wrong side of the road taking second and third places respectively. Pedestrians are at fault in many of the fatal accidents, with crossing between intersections being the top killer.

Major joined the A&P organization some 26 years ago in the produce department in Elgin. He stayed there 12 years and then was transferred to Rockford and then to Barrington.

It was from Barrington that he was sent to Antioch to manage the store here.

He has been living in Antioch since being transferred to Fox Lake seven years ago.

"This is just like coming home," Major said. "The people in this area are wonderful and I have always had a soft spot in my heart for them."

Major said that he figured he would be here for some time.

He is a member of the Moose Club No. 799 and Masonic Lodge No. 117 A.F. & A.M. in Elgin.

College has always been depicted as a quiet campus with ivy covered walls where the wisdom of the ages is imparted.

Not so today.

Today the ivy covered walls are being climbed by a minority group of radicals making demands under the guise of free thinkers and "we want to be a part of the establishment making the rules."

We would think that it is time that college officials got a little backbone and began to face up to these minority groups and their demands.

Everyone has to live by rules, in our work, in our play, in our homes and even in our colleges.

It seems to us that with all of the applicants waiting outside because the ivy covered walls are filled with radicals, some action should be taken.

We suggest that college officials, instead of mollycoddling the malcontents, expel them.

We suggest that letters be sent home to parents telling of the expulsions and the reasons for the action taken.

And we even suggest that the colleges refund the portion of the tuition that is unused by the student.

Then we suggest that those empty seats be filled with youngsters who want to get an education and not a police record.

And while we are about it, the professors that join in with these groups—if we were running things—would be looking elsewhere for employment.

Jack Is Our Man

The State's Attorney's race in the GOP corner is featuring four candidates who are seeking the nomination in the June 11 primary election.

In our opinion, one candidate stands out above all of the rest in the field.

That man is Jack Hoogasian, current First Assistant State's Attorney.

Hoogasian has been the chief criminal trial lawyer for the county practically all of the nine years he has been in the office.

He is a man who worked his way through school and then became a "career prosecutor."

Hoogasian early in the campaign drafted a program that he would like to put into effect with the basic premise of vigorous prosecution of offenders and protection of the rights of all citizens heading the list.

We feel that experience in the office is a must and Hoogasian has that experience.

We also feel that he has earned the right to the post to put forth his program for the benefit of all in the county.

Courthouse Notebook

The gubernatorial race in the Republican primary is beginning to take on some familiar slant with the forces of John Henry Altorfer complaining about backers of Richard Ogilvie making improper use of the Illinois Legislative Council.

Altorfer spokesmen are also complaining about state employees on the Ogilvie payroll.

Next there will be complaints of followers of one candidate tearing down the signs and posters of the opposition, a familiar cry of anguish in every campaign.

Since the Democrats have no opposition at the state level supporters of all candidates will be claiming that Democrats are switching to their man to help him win or the claim will be made that Democrats are helping to nominate a particular candidate because he will be easier to beat in the fall.

In the case of former Governor William G. Stratton the theory is that Democrats are helping him because even if he wins in November he is "old pro" enough so that Democrats can "get along with him", whereas Ogilvie is too dogmatic and Altorfer is an unknown quantity.

Ogilvie is apparently winning the battle of endorsements and has Ward and Township Committees in Cook County flocking to his banner, at least on the surface, and County Chairmen in Downstate counties.

We say on the surface because many organization men remember that Ogilvie was a key figure in the legislative purge of a few years ago which bounced some long-time legislators from the State Representative ballot.

Even the eventual acceptance of two of the purges, Peter Miller and Babe McAvoy, by Ogilvie who welcomed them to the Cook County payroll as errand, but repentant sons can't completely quiet the memory.

The fact that some of the more important Ward Committees are still considered outside the pale is another facet of the campaign with which Ogilvie must contend.

Surprisingly, too, there is considerable more resentment among Republicans against the Cook County Board President over his stepping out of this key post than one would have anticipated.

Many of these people agree that a public official should seek to move up when the opportunity presents itself, but in Ogilvie's case they feel he is going back on a promise and also he is surrendering hundreds of patronage jobs to the Democrats.

Ogilvie has pointed out that many of these jobs are now under

Your Congressman Reports....

By Cong. Robert McClory

The proposed federal law to outlaw the business of gambling should be included as one of the major weapons in the War on Poverty.

Illegal gambling, which is reputed to garner as much as $50 billion from the American public, levies its heaviest toll on the nation's poor.

While there are many affluent citizens who can afford to indulge in such elite activities as roulette and baccarat, or an afternoon at the neighborhood hookey, the principal victims of the syndicate operated gambling activities are those who can least afford such luxury.

In the Negro sections of every large city of America, we find a flourishing "numbers racket." This gambling system preys upon the poor and disadvantaged with the false promise that a winning number will make the player rich and permit him to emerge from the ghetto.

The proposed federal anti-gambling bill appears to be a modest response to charges that the Administration has been lax in moving against organized crime.

In an apparent burst of action, the Department of Justice may have attempted too much. The pending bill (H.R. 16666) presupposes that interstate commerce is involved in a gambling operation in which an aggregate of $2,000 or more is waged within a two month period. Federal jurisdiction is based upon this presumption of interstate commerce. Violations would subject participants in such a gambling business to a fine of not more than $10,000 or five years imprisonment or both.

However, the bill does not require any proof of interstate communications or other interstate activities as a prerequisite for asserting federal jurisdiction. In addition, the bill would exempt all gambling operations which are lawful under state statutes such as the New York and New Hampshire lotteries and pari-mutuel betting at race tracks in various states and certain other "legal" gambling operations.

The proposal contains a provision for a court to grant immunity to witnesses who turn State's evidence—a perfectly valid means for securing information concerning membership in the crime syndicate. One may ask why the measure does not also provide for securing evidence by electronic eavesdropping or wiretapping under carefully circumscribed court authority. The President's Commission on Organized Crime recommended that our law enforcement officials should be armed with such wiretap authority in cases involving organized crime.

In any event, the anti-gambling measure comes to the Congress with the blessing of the Administration and appears to meet with an enthusiastic reception on the part of most of the House Judiciary Committee.

In light of the fact that organized crime imposes its most serious burdens on the poor of America, it would seem well for the supporters of the "Poor People's March on Washington" to give support to the objective of the proposed anti-gambling bill. Indeed, all champions of the War on Poverty should give high priority to this bill in order that the announced program of nonviolence might be combined with a meaningful program of law observance.

Such legislation would provide benefits to all of the people of America, particularly the poor people who are the principal victims of organized crime and the "numbers racket."

Here in Antioch recently he said: "Elect me your governor and I promise there will be no income tax and no general tax increase. There is enough money coming in now to run the state, even better than it is being run by the present administration, because there is so much waste."

Antioch, Illinois
Editor:

I respect your right to choose John H. Altorfer as your candidate for governor, and to proclaim it in your editorial columns, but I must quarrel with the transparencies and fallaciousness of the reasoning by which you reached your decision to back him.

In the first place, we need another business man at the head of our government like we need plague, after experiencing whiz kid "Edsel" McNamara in the federal government in Washington.

You should know that a business man operates his business for a profit. The State of Illinois is a government, to be run for the benefit of its citizens, and not for profit. The recent Isaacs case, for example, it should be directed by a politician. In case you have forgotten the definition, a politician is one who practices the area of government, just as a doctor practices medicine, and a lawyer law.

And here we come down to basics. Altorfer was never elected to a public office, and if he were, would need to learn the whole business from scratch, and the urgency of the present situation does not permit this time lag. Furthermore, he has not come up with any positive programs for running the state; has taken no stand on taxes; has no plan for rebuilding our dangerous broken highway system. He has offered nothing but generalities, which in themselves, are meaningless. And you have repeated them.

How can you truthfully state that we will get every dollar's worth of value for every dollar we send to Springfield when you have no idea of how your candidate intends to spend it, or upon what? On the other hand, the most qualified candidate, former governor William G. Stratton, who has held just about every important office in the state, and who knows the workings of the state governmental machinery thoroughly, does have a well rounded program that we sorely need, and he has enunciated it at every gathering at which he spoke.

make him the top candidate?

Stratton has a good and practical plan for rehabilitating our highway system, and this alone should qualify him for the governorship. This plan incidentally has received wide coverage in the press, and was well received by all the information media.

For too many years Lake County has been the state's step-child, as Cook and the downstate counties have received the bulk of the benefit of state spending. With Altorfer it promises to be more of the same, but with Stratton, Lake County would receive its fair share of attention, and how badly we need this.

With all due respect to your choice, and the basis for making it, I say Stratton is the one candidate who stands head and shoulders above the field, and should be sent to the governor's mansion in Springfield to get the state back on the road to fiscal sanity, and government for all the people—not just a favored minority.

The Milwaukee Stock Car Club (MSC) of Wisconsin certainly must be deteriorating when it disqualified modified stock car drivers Bill Bohn and Tom Anderson at Slinger on Sunday, April 19, before an estimated 3,000 fans.

Bill Bohn turned in the fastest qualifying time that night and ran the fifth heat race. Shortly before the main feature race was to run it was announced that his car had been disqualified for a technical rules violation concerning his exhaust system and would not be permitted to run.

Tom Anderson had an even worse fate awaiting him. He was NOT told of any rules violation regarding his car, which was ninth fastest qualifier of the evening. Anderson won his heat race in addition to finishing tenth in the main event. Only when he reported to the pay window was he told that he had been disqualified because his boger bars did not conform to the rules. Therefore, as in Bill Bohn's case, there was no purse money for him.

The two drivers in question are members of the Interstate Racing Association (IRA) of Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin whose events were cancelled for the weekend due to rain. Two other cars from IRA also ran that night and were similarly disqualified for a minor rules infraction. AFTER they had run a full show.

Poppy Days May 24-25

By Del Jahneke

Disabled war veterans of four wars: World Wars I and II; the Korean Conflict, and the Vietnam War who are being cared for in Illinois hospitals, have in the past few months, found interesting and remunerative occupation in making the memorial poppies for the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary.

Poppy Days are scheduled for May 24 and 25 in Antioch, according to Mrs. Ray Rathmann, Poppy Chairman for the Antioch American Legion Auxiliary No. 748.

During the month of May, some 250,000 American Legionnaires and Auxiliary members throughout the nation, have been preparing for the traditional days of remembrance. The Antioch American Legion and Unit members will have their members well supplied with the little red poppies asking passersby on the streets to "WEAR A POPPY." Nearly everyone has read the poignant poem "In Flanders Fields", by Colonel John McCrae:

"In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks still bravely singing fly,
Scarce heard amidst the guns below.
We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved and now we lie
In Flanders Fields.
Take up our quarrel with the foe,
To you from falling hands we throw
The Torch—be yours to hold it high;
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders Fields.
This poem is a reminder of the valiant men who lost their lives in World War I. Today we esteem the Poppy as a memorial as well to all men killed in all the wars.

NI-Gas Files To Sell Bond Issue

Northern Illinois Gas Company announced it has filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission covering its proposed $25 million first mortgage bond issue.

According to William J. Crowley, NI-Gas executive vice-president-finance, the bids are scheduled to be opened on June 11, given necessary regulatory clearances and satisfactory market conditions.

The financing will be used for the company's 1968 utility construction program, estimated at $45 million. The balance of the construction funds will be provided from internal sources.

Crowley said the $45 million construction budget reflects a step-up in forecasts of new household formations in NI-Gas' service territory, additional development of natural gas underground storage fields, and construction of more mains from these fields to the company's markets.

Pollution Bond Issue Wins Okay

The Illinois Junior Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the billion dollar bond issue for pollution control and resource development, it was announced today.

William L. Rutherford and Maynard P. Venema, co-chairmen of the Illinoisans for Pure Air and Water, said W. E. "Skip" Dunkirk, state Jaycee president, notified them that his organization endorsed the bond issue proposal at its annual meeting.

The bond issue, which will be voted on Nov. 5, would provide funds for correcting air and water pollution problems, developing new recreation facilities, controlling floods and developing new water supplies and water management practices. The Illinoisans for Pure Air and Water is the official statewide citizens committee seeking voter approval of the proposal.

In announcing his organization's support, Dunkirk said, "Illinois Jaycees are vitally concerned over the increasing problems of air and water pollution and the lack of sufficient recreation facilities. We need planned conservation of our natural resources."

According to Rutherford and Venema, Dunkirk also said the Jaycees not only endorse the bond issue, but will participate actively through the 13,000 families and 286 communities they represent in urging the electorate to vote in favor of the proposition.

New Telephone Directories Being Distributed This Week

The new 1968 Illinois Bell Telephone Directories are being distributed in the Antioch area this week.

Last year's book had 50 pages of Antioch area numbers. This year it has been increased to 52 pages.

More yellow pages, too! Last year there were 164 yellow pages—this year 178.

Regional page listings have gone up to 213 from last year's 210 pages.

An artist's version of a typical Chain O' Lakes scene is featured on the front cover of the 1968 Illinois Bell Telephone Directory for the lakes area towns.

Local historical events and places, commemorating the state's 150th birthday, are featured on all 57 suburban area telephone directories, printed by Illinois Bell.

The cover of the local directory recognizes this region's outstanding asset—its famous recreation areas, second to none in the state for fishing, boating, hunting and winter sports.

The primary picture on the cover is imprinted over a background of the official Illinois Sesquicentennial Seal, being used throughout the state this year.

Again this year telephone directories will contain three separate sections of telephone numbers—an alphabetical section containing local area numbers, a center Yellow Pages section, and at the back of the book, regional listings.

The same large, readable type introduced in 1967 will be used this year.

"These directories are the re-

Customer Service Award To NI-Gas

Northern Illinois Gas Company was cited recently by the American Gas Association for its program to improve customer service while reducing costs of gas appliances.

Given by the customer service committee of A.G.A.'s operating and engineering services department, the citation—a National Appliance Field Organization Program award—recognized NI-Gas' efforts to reduce the number of service calls by studying their causes and results.

According to William B. Haas, vice president of Northern Illinois Natural Gas Company and past chairman of A.G.A.'s Operating Section, this action program also aids manufacturers in improving performance and design, and assists A.G.A. research and development efforts by pointing out desirable improvements.

NI-Gas received the award earlier this month at A.G.A.'s annual Distribution Conference in Houston.

Don and Betty Beveroth P.M.&L's Talented Twosome

By Shirley Jensen
Pictures by Vern Cook

Don and Betty Beveroth, of Pad-dock Lake, Wis., are two valuable assets to Palette, Masque & Lyre. Don is a member of PM&L's

Don Beveroth, board of directors, as well as one of its favorite actors and directors. Beveroth has been an English teacher at Antioch High School for the past five years and has his Master's degree from Northern Illinois University. He has directed several plays at the high school.

When Don isn't busy teaching he can usually be found at the PM&L Theatre when a play is in rehearsal. He has given first-rate performances in 13 PM&L plays since 1964. He directed and acted in the melodrama "Gold in the Hills" in 1965 and the recent comedy hit "Room Service," and directed the modern Greek tragedy "Antigone" in 1967. Don prefers acting (particularly character parts) to directing, but he does both extremely well. His favorite acting roles to date are as the imaginative Walter Mitty in "A Thurbur Carnival" in the 1964-65 season, and the scheming Mr. Bumble in "Oliver" in 1967. A Mr. Thesbis award was given to Don Beveroth at the PM&L Annual Awards Banquet last year for his consistent, excellent performances.

Mr. Beveroth will be going to N.E.D.A. for special English courses this summer, but you can bet that he will be back acting in and directing PM&L productions next year.

Mrs. Betty Beveroth is busy right now rehearsing the lead role of Edith Lambert in the very

Local Men Are Delegates To Rockford Convention

The Rev. Wilton H. Anderson, pastor of St. Stephen Lutheran Church, Rt. 59, Antioch, together with Mr. Christ Schultz, Oakwood Knolls, Antioch, will be among more than 600 delegates expected to attend the sixth annual convention of the Illinois Synod of the Lutheran Church in America, May 20-23 at Trinity Lutheran Church, at Rockford.

The delegates represent 231,002 baptized members in 343 congregations throughout Illinois and eastern Missouri.

The Executive Board of the synod will recommend adoption of a budget for 1969 in the amount of $3,488,100, an increase of $134,858 over the 1968 budget.

Lutheran Welfare Services of Illinois is slated for the largest allocation from the budget with $330,000 to support its work in programs for the culturally deprived pre-schoolers; a newly developed program providing day care for children of working mothers; resident programs for emotionally disturbed children; case-work services to families and children; special ministries to law offenders, the sick, chronically ill, the alcoholic; and services to the aging.

Two Lutheran colleges supported by the synod received the second largest amount from the budget—$350,000 allocated to Augustana College, Rock Island, and Grandview College, Des Moines.

A matter of high importance to the colleges, campus ministry, camping, and the delegates, will be their consideration and action on a proposal to be presented by the Executive Board of Synod recommending a three-year capital fund effort in the amount of $2 million.

Delegates will consider a number of important matters to come before the convention. Social concerns expressed through the Committee of Social Ministry will be presented in several resolutions for action by the delegates. The committee is expected to reaffirm a fair housing statement first presented in 1963 during the first annual convention meeting in Peoria. Other statements to be acted upon include: therapeutic abortion; migrant farm workers; moral sensitivity to the war in Viet Nam.

funny comedy "Never Too Late", to be seen at the PM&L Theatre June 21, 22, 28 and 29 at 8:30 p.m. The part of Edith, the bland, unruffled mother-to-be, seems to fit Betty like an old shoe. She, herself, is a gentle mother of two adorable daughters, Becky 10, and Ann, 2½, for whom she modestly takes half the credit.

Mrs. Don Beveroth had a fine musical background before joining Palette, Masque & Lyre, Inc. She taught music for four years after graduating from Bradley University in Peoria, with a degree in music.

She first contributed her musical and acting ability to PM&L in Mac Ryan's original musical "Nothing Ever Happens in This Town" in 1964. In 1966, Betty was seen in the role of Madame Ernestine, opera star, in the operetta "Little Mary Sunshine". Being a competent seamstress, she was in charge of costumes for "Rumpelstiltskin". And last summer, she was musical director for "Take Me Along."

By now, it must be apparent that the Beveroths are a talented twosome who contribute greatly to PM&L.

Rev. Bauerle To Spend 9 Weeks In Germany

Rev. Bernhard Bauerle, O. Carm., Carmel High School for Boys, Mundelein, has been awarded a U. S. government grant to participate in an overseas Institute for advanced study to be held this summer at Munich, Germany, under the sponsorship of the National Defense Education Act (NDEA).

This Institute for Secondary Teachers of German is held under the direction of Dr. George Julian Sinclair, Director and professor at Lewis and Clark College, Portland, Oregon.

Rev. Bauerle, who teaches German and Religious Education at Carmel High School for Boys, is one of 72 teachers selected in a rigorous national competition.

Participants of this Institute will spend nine weeks in Germany, from June 13 to Aug. 15. They will spend three weeks in travel and six in concentrated study in Munich. Among the places to be visited will be Berlin, Vienna, Austria, and the most interesting and culturally significant parts of Southern Germany and German Switzerland.

The Institute is designed to improve, in an atmosphere of linguistic and cultural authenticity, the language competency of all participants; to meet the teachers' needs for increased competence in the use of new methods and teaching materials; and to gain insight into the realities and personalities of present-day Germany.

Candidates To Answer Questions At Mundelein

"What Can The Illinois Legislature Do To Improve Law Enforcement?" will be the subject of a special meeting Monday evening May 27 at Mundelein High School Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Asking the questions, will be police officers and citizens. Lloyd DeTienne, President of the Lake County Chiefs' Assn., and Michael S. Palmer, President of the Lake County Crime Commission, will welcome and challenge the candidates to expound on what they propose doing, if elected, to improve law enforcement.

Each candidate will be given five minutes to comment, then questions from the audience will be welcomed.

It is felt by many that any drastic improvement in the overall picture of law enforcement must come from Springfield. It is expected that candidates will discuss the problems of part-time police and part-time police departments—police training—laws relating to gun control—stop and frisk legislation—the drinking driver and the raising of minimum sentence for many felonies.

Many polls rate crime in the streets as one of the top problems in the U.S. today. If you are concerned, here is an opportunity to make your feelings known, where it may do some good.

Sequoits Flunk Chance In District Competition Grayslake Wins 5-3

Antioch	3	4	1
Grayslake	5	5	2

After riding high on the clouds of victory for the past few weeks, the Sequoits flopped flat on their noses in what proved to be their final game of District play last Thursday. The final score was 5-3 in favor of Grayslake.

Mike Wells pitched until the 6th inning, when he was relieved by brother, Wilford. Mike was the losing pitcher and Bob Sorenson, a Grayslake sophomore, went all the way and got credit for the win. He tossed a 3 hitter, fanning 7 in the championship contest.

Antioch scored one run in the first inning, one in the third and one in the fifth.

In the first inning, Pleviak got to first on an error, went to third base on a single by Drije and scored on a passed ball.

In the third inning, Pleviak walked, stole second and got to third on a passed ball. He caught Grayslake sleeping and stole home.

In the fifth inning, Mike Wells got on base on an error and went on to second on an overthrow by the second baseman. He went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Gregg Drije's single.

Antioch's other hits were a single by Bocox in the second and a single by Jim Carlson in the sixth inning.

Grayslake's victory over Antioch gave them the district title.

Sportsmen's Club Offers Memorial Shoot Sun.

Celebration of the Decoration Day holiday will begin early, with a Memorial Shoot on Sunday, May 26, at the McHenry Sportsmen's Club trap range on the west side of Pistakee Bay, starting at 11 a.m. Shooting will continue until dark.

Winners in the various contests will be rewarded with luscious eating JoPat tender-aged steaks, chickens and rock cornish hens, in contests set to produce wins for all classes of shooters: good ones, fair, and mediocre ones.

The favorite Hi-Lo-White Bird Shoot nets a prize for the high scoring gun, plus one for the low-est-tallying shooter, and one for the lucky shotgunner who breaks the white target.

Other contests in this vein on the day's program are the double, triple and quintuple White Bird Shoots, in which a prize is won for every white target broken, plus one for the high score.

Tough, competition minded, gunners will compete in Winner-Take-all; Annie Oakley, and Protection Shoots. Here they separate the crack-shots from the shooters.

Shells and hot refreshments will be available all day in the club house.

Trap chairman Len Huhn, Ingle-side, posted the June shooting schedule with Sunday prize shoots on the 9th and 23rd, and Saturday afternoon practice sessions on the 1st, 8th, 15th, 22nd and 29th. These run from 1 to 4 p.m. All are open to the public.

A business meeting is set for Thursday, the 6th, at 8 p.m. at the club house.

All of us possess vast stores of energy on which we never draw except in a crisis.

While the races were set back a week, the IRA modifieds did get in at least one race over the weekend. While Sunday's races for IRA were also rained out at the Waukegan Speedway, the Interstates Racing group did run at the hi-banked asphalt track at the Rockford Speedway on Friday night. They were so well received that they return there again this Friday night. Winning the 30 lap feature there was Johnny Reimer, followed by Billy Goeden, Whitey Harris, Bill Bohn and Ron Bergsma. In the feature race, Claude Potter, who has two feature wins at the Waukegan Speedway, hit the wall and bounced off in front of Jim Bozeman of Waukegan. Bozeman's car went up and over a wheel of Potter's car, sending it into a complete end for end flip.

Earlier in qualifying Reimer, Tom Anderson and Goeden time trailed under 15 seconds. This race and previous races point out the high, fast competition fans at Wilmot can expect this Saturday night.

outdoor chefs are very fussy!

Ever since the outdoor cooking fad began,
we've been catering to the special needs of outdoor chefs.

Over the years, we've satisfied scores of thousands.

Many, many find just the steak, chops or chicken they want in our self-service meat departments.

Others have specific needs...

the steak must be 2½" thick, the chops double thick and so forth.

That's no problem.

If you don't see it...just ask.

We'll be happy to help you.

One other reason we're so popular with "backyard barbecuers"...
the quality of our "Super-Right" Meats.
Quality so high,

some meat graded U.S. Choice just isn't perfect enough to be "Super-Right" Meat.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P?

It's one of many.

Memorial Day Classic at Waukegan Speedway

The first extra lap event of the 1966 auto racing season at the Waukegan Speedway will be the fourth annual Memorial Day Classic for the modified stock cars on Thursday night, May 30.

The first race will start at 8 p.m. with time trial runs starting one hour earlier.

Two of the three previous Classic winners will be entered in Thursday's races. Jim Sullivan of Antioch first won the event in 1965, setting the 50 lap mark which still stands. The popular Antioch speedster has an all new modified this year and could be the first repeat winner of the event.

John Reimer triumphed in the 1966 running. Reimer went on to win the driving title that season. John also has a new car this year and certainly can not be counted out of the running for this race.

Fran Ansell won the 1967 version, which was postponed one week because of rain. Fran will not be driving in this year's race as he has moved to Escanaba, Michigan. However, his brother Homer has purchased the winning car and will be entered Thursday night.

And not to be counted out are Whitey Harris, Bill Bohn, Roger Von Otto and Claude Potter, all of whom have been outstanding in the opening events at the Waukegan Speedway.

Hobby stock events will also be contested Thursday night, May 3. The rain date for the events will be Sunday night, June 2.

Percy Joins Dirksen In Backing Bill

Sen. Charles H. Percy joined Sen. Everett M. Dirksen in introducing an amendment which would provide for block grants to states for improving local law enforcement agencies.

The Omnibus Crime Control bill, to which the amendment was proposed, now provides that grant assistance be made directly to the individual agencies.

The amendment would insure that Illinois receive at least $27 million over the next 3 years of federal assistance for law enforcement, Percy estimated.

"The federal government can and should provide financial stimulus and reinforcement in the improvement of law enforcement," Percy said in a speech on the floor of the Senate. But the leadership and initiative should come from the states.

"As our experience under the Law Enforcement Assistance Act of 1965 has clearly shown, the states are already on the move to meet the demands of their individual jurisdiction. The block grant amendment provides the necessary funds and encouragement to speed up progress," Percy said.

Percy said the block grant approach has the endorsement of at least 47 state governors, including Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois. He said Richard Ogilvie, President of the Cook County Board and a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor of Illinois, also favors the amendment.

Percy said the block grant amendment would shift responsibility for the administration of both planning grants and law enforcement grants from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration in the Department of Justice to law enforcement planning agencies in the respective states. Under the amendment, each state would be entitled to $100,000 for the purpose of planning. Additional funds would be available on the basis of population.

Veterans Retain Insurance

More than 285,000 Illinois veterans retain $2,094,000 in GI insurance.

Last year alone insured Illinois veterans paid $33,288,000 in premiums. During the same period they collected $12,173,000 in dividends.

Payments to veterans and the beneficiaries of deceased veterans totaled another $36,065,000, according to John B. Naser, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office, Chicago.

Policies for these 285,000 veterans were divided into five groups with World War II National Service Life Insurance protecting 230,000 veterans.

In addition, more than 3,785,000 members of the military service now on active duty are insured under SGLI, which is supervised by the Veterans Administration but it is apart from veterans' insurance.

VA reports the death rate for WW I veterans was 42.5 per thousand last year. For World War II veterans it was down to 6.1 per thousand, while Korean veterans died at the rate of 1.5 per thousand.
